Dear

STAT

Your letter of the 22nd crossed mine of June 24.

I have an appointment today to discuss your reclassification again with the Personnel Branch. I realize that this means a great deal to you and I, too, feel very strongly that you deserve a promotion. Of course, it cannot be put on the basis that you personally have not had a reclassification since the fall of 1943, but rather must be based on the requirements for this particular job. I will do everything I can to get it across. In the meantime, I suggest that you hold on to your apartment for a few more days because, although I do not want to be too optimistic, I think it will be approved.

Sincerely,

L. K. White
